

KNOX
GRAMMAR SCHOOL

LIFTING STUDENT PERFORMANCE CONFERENCE 2018

When

Wednesday 24 January 2018

9.30am-12.30pm - keynote speakers and workshops followed by lunch

1.10pm-2.40pm - optional session for principals and executive staff to join the Knox Grammar Executive Team to discuss school strategies.

Where:

Knox Grammar School, Wahroonga, Sydney NSW

Cost:

Free - registration essential at www.knox.nsw.edu.au/conference

Who:

Government and non-government principals, leaders and teachers

LIFTING STUDENT PERFORMANCE CONFERENCE 2018

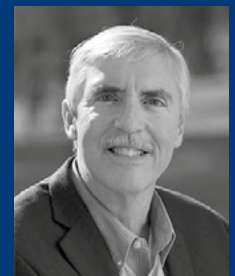

Wednesday 24 January 2018, Knox Grammar School, Wahroonga

The research indicates that teacher quality lies at the heart of effective student learning. Increasingly, the relationship between instructional leadership, effective teaching and student outcomes is more apparent. Lifting Student Performance is a conference that will both inform and challenge school leaders and teachers about how they can make a real difference in student outcomes.

Keynote speakers

- Professor John Fischetti, Head of School Education, University of Newcastle
- Professor Stephen Dinham OAM, Associate Dean and Professor of Instructional Leadership, University of Melbourne

Professor John Fischetti

Topics covered include:

- The role of leaders in improving learning
- The leadership of teachers and their role in improving student outcomes
- School frameworks that create conditions for effective learning
- A STEAM mindset – Transforming learning, teaching and leading for the innovation age

Professor Stephen Dinham, OAM

Registrations now open (closes 12 December) www.knox.nsw.edu.au/conference.

For more information, contact Mrs Sherry Bieman at biemans@knox.nsw.edu.au or 02 9487 0481.

Attending this conference will contribute to 2.5 hours of QTC Registered PD addressing 3.1.2, 6.2.2, 7.4.2 from the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers towards maintaining Proficient Teacher Accreditation in NSW.